power of the crystals

The holographic crystal puncture

Looking back:

Prof. Dennis Gabor invented the hologram in 1930, for which he received the Nobel Prize.

In around 1940, Prof. Karl Primbram was already postulating that the brain possesses holographic properties, in order to store information.

Prof. David Bloom declared the universe to be a hologram.

The Crystal Therapy according to Peter Mandel makes use of holographic structures, in order to give empty, amorphous crystals a "meaning".

The effect of the healing crystals is explained by the precise cut and / or the engraving with the so-called Earth Hologram.

Already in the 13th century, Giordano Bruno had made this "Earth Hologram" the focus of his "heretical world view".

We thank the Company Swarovski for the realization of a magnificent, new "healing idea". Crystal puncture has also experienced a tremendous boom in the last few years.

The crystal-puncture combinations address all three levels – spirit/information, soul/energy, body/matter – and are able to strengthen the regulating influences of all types of follow-up therapies. More and more therapists are making use of this new therapy, especially for pain and chronic pain syndromes.

Particularly in regard to the backgrounds of illness and pain, Crystal Therapy has proven to be extremely effective.

Now the Company Swarovski has succeeded in placing the Earth Hologram in a tiny puncture crystal, by means of a special laser technique. In this manner, a new dimension of effectiveness has been developed for therapists.

The positive reactions with patients last longer and are often faster as well. New point-combinations regarding the new puncture crystals could be discovered, e.g. in the field of skull somatotopy. In this case, the crystals are applied to the scalp. The overwhelming successes with the Crystal Therapy, and crystal puncture as well, can be traced with no doubt back to the structures and lines of the Earth Hologram.

The working hypothesis, that our cells possess a similar informational structure, allows consideration of the idea of a balanced, constructive interference-reaction.

Chinese points on the scalp and around the ear

Excellent accompanying therapy for treatment concepts for all complaints – particularly with chronic sickness and therapy resistance. The ear is pressed to the head and the points are localized on the scalp around the edge of the ear.

Point 1: Nose – Mouth – Jaw

Diseases of the oral cavity, the jaw, the nose. With allergies, loss of taste, ozaena, sinusitis, neuralgias and trigeminal neuralgia (possible accompanying treatment of the trigeminal point and body). Combination-point for the crystal points 2 through 11.

Point 2: Head – Brain

Central-nervous, psychogenic diseases, neuralgias of the cranium, depressions, vessel spasms, arterial circulatory disorders, dizziness, drowsiness, disorientation.

Point 3: Facial neuralgias

Facial pains of all kinds. Adjuvant with cerebral spasms.

Point 4: Neck/Shoulder neuralgias

Also in the case of occipital neuralgias and torticollis.

Points 5 and 6: Thoracic /Lumbar spine

All strains of the thoracic and lumbar spine, with organotherapy of the thorax and abdominal region. Carefully massage the points at home several times a day, without removing the crystal.

Points 7 through 9: Leg and ankles

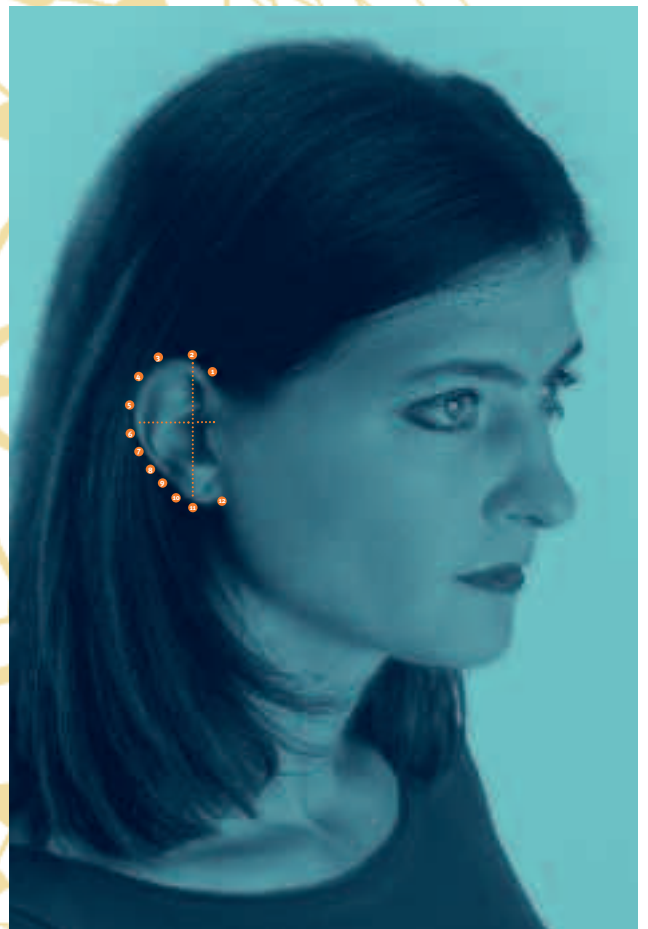

Strains and pains in the regions of the knee, ankle and toes. In the case of coxarthrosis, gonarthrosis, coxarthrosis, arthritis of the joints (the knee, for example), bursitis, circulatory disorders of the toes.

Points 10 and 11: Psychological points

Depressions, anxieties, insomnia (sleeplessness). Preliminary treatment prior to the actual therapy.

Point 12: Esoteric focal point

Harmonizing combination-point for the crystal points 1 through 11.

Basic combination 1

Stimulation of the lymphatic regulation and detoxication of the body

Point 1: Yin Trang

Position: exactly between the eyebrows.

Point 2: Control-points hypothalamus

Position: in the middle of the forehead, right and left in a line that runs straight upward from the eyes looking straight ahead.

Point 3: Lymph drainage point in the ear

Position: to the right and left of the vegetative channel. The point of the 8th tooth is assigned with a special effect in regard to the retromolar and drainage behavior of the lymph.

Point 4: Kidney point (95) in the ear

Diseases of the urogenital system and the adrenal gland, diseases of the joints, stimulation of detoxication.

Harmonization of emotions and feelings

Combination 1 (points 1 and 2)

Used primarily for psychological regulation. It has a regulating effect upon the emotions and activates the lymph drainage.

Point 1: Limbic point

Position: exactly one finger width above the point between the eyebrows (Yin Trang). It has a regulating effect upon learning ability, regulation of feelings/emotions and the reduction of inner stress.

Point 2: Control-points hypothalamus

Position: in the middle of the forehead, right and left in a line that runs straight upward from the eyes looking straight ahead.

Point 3: Lymph drainage point in the ear

Position: to the right and left of the vegetative channel. The point of the 8th tooth is assigned with a special effect in regard to the retromolar and drainage behavior of the lymph.

Basic combination 2

Balancing of psychological strains

Point 1: Memory point

Position: exactly at the middle of the head at the hairline.

Point 2: Control-points hypothalamus

Position: in the middle of the forehead, right and left in a line that runs straight upward from eyes looking straight ahead.
